CI [REDACTED]

Please transmit this to Colonel Mann with my compliments. I suggest the following accompanying annotations:

a. There is no convenient, single work in the collection of overt literature that will satisfy his (or our) needs.

b. The selection attached is the basic reading list -- revised, this is an advance copy -- we give our own people.

c. Items of priority concern to the men in his group are marked with an asterisk. The key works for background among those asterisked are (these are not in order of importance; Colonel Mann's people should have an easy familiarity with all of them):

1) Dulles, A. W. - The whole book preferably, but certainly those central chapters dealing with counterintelligence (see index).

2) Report of the Royal Commission on Espionage, Australia (the Petrov case). This is basic. No one in the counterintelligence business should practice without having slugged his way through it.

3) Royal Commission report on Espionage, Canada (the Gouzenko case).

4) Deriabin, Peter - The Secret World

5) Orlov, Alexander. The initial chapters dealing with intelligence. The chapters dealing with guerrilla warfare are not up to the same qualitative level.

I am sending a copy of the attachment with this covering note to [REDACTED] with the suggestion that if he has additional bibliographical recommendations to convey to Colonel Mann that he do so directly through you.
